

Run Sheet 2 — Adopt the Meet

After kit setup. You need the release code from the meet official.

1 Get the release code.

The official releases the meet on stickitski.com and reads you an 8-character code (letters and numbers) over the phone, or it is written on this sheet: CODE: _____

2 On a tablet, open <http://stickit.local:3001> and type the code into "Adopt Meet".

This needs internet for a moment. If it says a copy already exists (day two of a meet), tap Replace when asked — that is normal.

3 Set the two PINs when asked, and write them here. PINs last one day — the box asks for new ones every competition morning.

Control PIN (scoring computer + head judge): _____ Crew PIN (judges + timekeeper): _____

4 Done. The meet name shows at the top, with "Sync: Up to date".

Hand out tablets — Run Sheet 3 (Tablets) gets each person to their screen.

5 The Chief of Scoring starts the FIRST run of each event from the Scoring Computer.

Check the run order, judge panel and course specs first, then press Start Run on the Scoring tab. That first start puts the event in front of every tablet; after it, the Head Judge can start runs from the tablet.

The code works exactly once. If adoption fails partway, call the official to release a new code — nothing is harmed.

No internet right now? Plan B: the official saved a backup adoption file when releasing the meet (it is on the scoring laptop's USB drive). Plug that drive into the SCORING LAPTOP (not the box), open the venue menu, and use "Import from file". The meet loads exactly as it would by code.
