

STICKIT FREESTYLE SCORING

Judges

Quick Start Guide

For: Anyone scoring on a judge tablet

Getting Connected

One web address is your whole login. No username, no password.

Before the event, the Chief of Score gives every judge their own web address. Type it into the tablet's browser exactly as written (or scan the QR code if you were given one):

 scoring.example.com/judge/AB12CD/XY34ZW

That address is yours alone — it knows which event you are judging and which seat you are in. Keep the page open all day.

The rhythm of every run

Athlete starts — your screen shows their bib & name

You enter your score

Tap Submit

Screen clears and waits for the next athlete

IMPORTANT Wrong athlete on your screen? Don't score. Wave to the Chief of Score and they will fix it.

TIP Bright sun? Tap the HC button in the corner for a high-contrast black-and-white screen. It changes nothing about your scores.

What You Score — Moguls & Duals

Your tablet only shows the job you were assigned. You can't press the wrong judge's buttons.

MOGULS — TURNS JUDGE	MOGULS — AIR JUDGE
Turn score buttons (0 – 20)	Jump codes (what trick was it?)
Deduction buttons (falls, etc.)	Jump scores (how well done?)
Submit	Submit

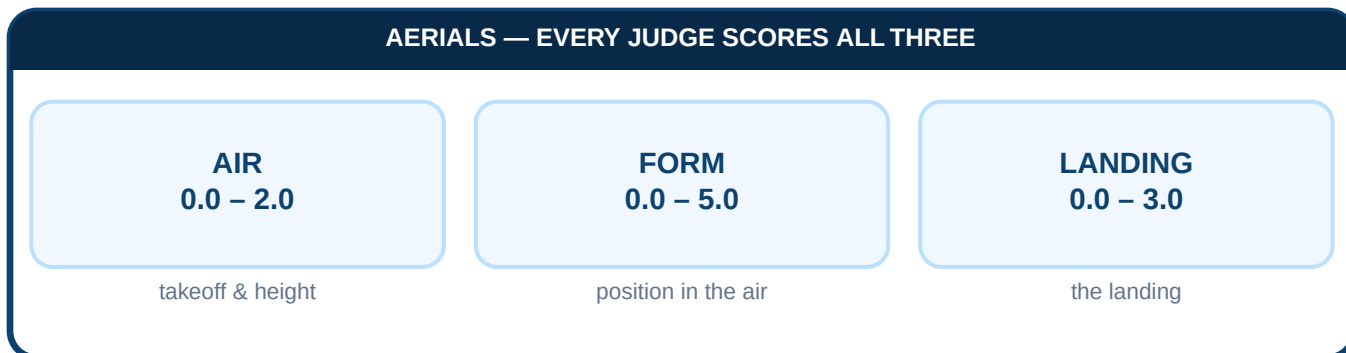

Turns judges pick a turn score and any deductions. Air judges pick the jump code for each jump, then score each jump. Both Air judges must agree on the codes — if you disagree, the tablet says so and the Head Judge sorts it out.

Dual moguls — splitting 5 points

DUAL MOGULS — YOUR SPLIT
5-0	4-1	3-2	2-3	1-4	0-5
BLUE side «				» RED side

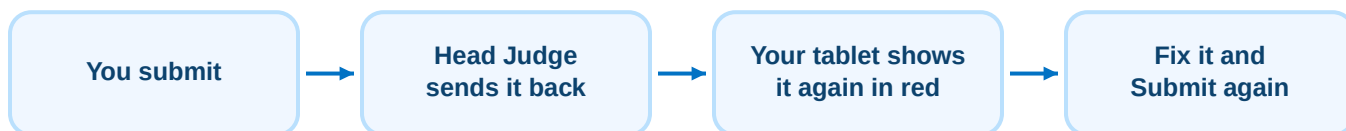

Two skiers race side by side. You have 5 points to split between them — tap the split that matches what you saw (3-2 means Blue earned 3, Red earned 2). The winner is decided by all five judges' points together.

Aerials + Fixing Mistakes

In aerials there are no separate turn or air judges — every judge enters Air, Form, and Landing for every jump. Submit each jump separately; two-jump events score each jump on its own.

If your score is sent back

GOOD TO KNOW A returned score is not a punishment — it almost always means a typo (a 9.5 that should have been 5.9). Fix it and resubmit.

Judge's checklist

- ✓ Charge the tablet the night before — bring a battery pack for cold days.
- ✓ Keep the browser page open all day. Don't close the tab between athletes.
- ✓ Never refresh in the middle of a run unless the Chief of Score asks you to.
- ✓ Lost the page? Re-type your address (or re-scan your QR code) — your seat is exactly where you left it.
