Wait for the athlete to finish

The screen shows who is on course (bib and name at the top). If the name looks wrong, do not enter a time — wave to the Chief of Score.

2

Type the time with the number pad

Type it exactly as your stopwatch shows it, with the decimal point — for example 27.34. The mistake key (DEL) erases the last digit.

3

Tap the green Submit Time button

Check the big number first. Once you submit, the screen moves on and waits for the next athlete.

Special Situations

1 No valid time (NT)

The athlete finished but you have no usable time — the clock failed or you missed it. Tap the red No Time button and confirm. Their run still counts; they simply get zero speed points. Their time shows as "NT" everywhere.

2 Manual time calculation

If you are timing with a top clock and a bottom clock, tap the amber "Manual Time Calculation" button. Enter both readings and the tablet does the math for you — no mental subtraction at the bottom of a cold hill.

3 Starting runs from your tablet

At some events the Chief of Score will ask you to start each run. When they do, the Next Up card on your screen shows a blue Start Run button — tap it as the athlete leaves the gate.

4 Athlete never starts (DNS)

If the next athlete never leaves the gate, tap the small DNS button next to Start Run and confirm. That marks them "Did Not Start" and moves the line along.

GOOD TO KNOW Times only matter for moguls and dual moguls. Aerials events are not timed — there is no timekeeper tablet for aerials.

TIP Faster than the pace time = more speed points, up to the cap. Your job is only the time — the tablet calculates all points automatically.

CAREFUL Keep the tablet charged and the browser page open all day. If the page ever looks frozen, pull down to refresh — your place is saved.
